Joseph Klein Charged With Killing Man On Train Carrying Soldiers To Springfield.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Paxton, Ill., April 29.—The case of Joseph H. Klein of Chicago, charged with the killing of Earl Nelson, was called for trial in the circuit court here today. The case has attracted much attention and the trial will be much interest. The killing followed by Nelson took place when Klein, a member of the First Infantry of the Illinois National Guard, was on the way to Springfield last summer with his regiment, which had been summoned to put down the race riots in the capital city. Nelson, it is alleged, was beating his way on the train that was carrying the militiamen. Klein ordered him to leave the train and upon Nelson's refusal to do so, the militiaman, it is charged, stabbed him with a bayonet with fatal results.

CIGARETTE LAW TO BE RECONSIDERED

Will Be Redrawn to Meet Legal Complications That Have Arisen.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., April 29.—The Cady cigarette bill, which was passed by the legislature last week, has been recalled for an amendment. It was recalled because the bill allowed to stand as it was passed it would fall under the axe of the first veto of the governor this year to the Bird tobacco bill. The Bird bill was vetoed on the ground that it bars boys from handling tobacco at all and according to this a boy working in a tobacco warehouse might be barred under the bill. The Cady bill contains a similar provision in that it prohibits the handling of tobacco at all and according to this in the next few days an amendment will be offered to the Cady bill, to free it from its objectionable features and at the same time raise the penalty of those who smoke cigarettes and greatly increase the penalty for violations.

Thousands Of More Of Mississippi Assembling In That City For Session.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Natchez, Miss., April 29.—Mississippi school teachers are taking Natchez by storm today and practically every accommodation in the city will be taxed to provide places for them. The program for the initial session provides for addresses of welcome by Mayor Reubens and President C. E. Berger of the board of education, a response for the visitors by T. K. Hogan of Biloxi, and the presidential address of Superintendent T. P. Scott of Brookhaven. The proceedings of the convention, including numerous departmental conferences, will be continued and concluded tomorrow.

C., April 29.—Traveling men from all sections of South Carolina rallied here in force today for the annual convention of the State division of the Travelers' Protective Association. UNVEIL STATUE OF CONFEDERATE SCOUT

Exercises In Nashville Today For Unveiling Of Memorial To Sam Davis On Capitol Hill

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Nashville, Tenn., April 29.—A statue of Sam Davis, the noted Confederate scout who gave up his life rather than reveal the source of information he had gained inside the Federal lines, was unveiled here today with interesting ceremonies. The memorial occupies a conspicuous site on Capitol Hill and was erected with an appropriation made by the Tennessee legislature. It consists of a bronze statue of Davis, of heroic proportions, surmounting a granite base. The statue was modeled by George Julian Zolnay, the St. Louis sculptor.

Davis was captured in the Federal lines at Pulaski, Tenn., Nov. 22, 1863, with papers giving the field positions of the Federal troops. He was hanged as a spy five days later by order of General Dodge.

"Had I a thousand lives, I would lose them all before I would betray my friends," were the words spoken by Davis as he sat on the edge of his coffin, condemned to be executed, after General Dodge had offered him his "horse, side arms, and an escort to the Federal lines," if he would tell who the traitor was from whom he obtained the papers found on him when captured.

SEASON OF WESTERN LEAGUE IS OPENED

First Games Of Baseball Were Played Today In Denver, Wichita, Pueblo And Lincoln.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Lincoln, Neb., April 29.—The umpire's cry of "play ball" resounded throughout the Western League circuit today and the baseball season of 1909 starts on the five months' journey. Rarely has a season opened so auspiciously for the Western League. Week spots have been strengthened in all teams, and it is believed that at least five of the eight clubs must be reckoned as contenders for the championship.

St. Louis City and Omaha retain their veteran organizations of last season, and the first named city is picked as the favorite for the championship. Des Moines and Lincoln have apparently strengthened their teams and are likely to prove strong factors in the fight for the pennant. The outlook for Denver and Pueblo is not so promising and Topeka and Wichita are newcomers in the league, so that it is difficult to predict the part they will play in the championship chase.

In the opening games today Omaha plays in Denver, St. Louis City in Wichita, Des Moines in Pueblo and Topeka in Lincoln. The schedule provides for 154 games, with Sept. 28 as the closing date.

Central League

Terre Haute, Ind., April 29.—The season of the Central League opens today, with games as follows: South Bend at Zanesville, Grand Rapids at Wheeling, Fort Wayne at Evansville, and Dayton at Terre Haute. More interest is displayed in the initial games over the entire circuit than ever before in the history of the league. The clubs appear evenly matched with all of the managers optimistic in regard to their chances for the pennant. The season will consist of 140 games, closing Sept. 16. The aggregate mileage is 41,850, or about 5,600 to a club, the longest mileage of any minor league in the country.

H. L. Skavlem in Madison: County Commissioner of Highway H. L. Skavlem went to Madison this morning to appear before the legislature and speak on the proposed new legislation affecting roads and road improvements.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Liverpool, April 29.—Amid loud cheers from a large assemblage, the magnificent new triple screw steamship Laurentine, of the White Star line, sailed out from this port on her maiden voyage to Quebec and Montreal today. The event was a notable one, and the many Canadians and friends of Canada in the mother country made it a red-letter day. The steamship sailed with a full passenger list and a large cargo of freight.

The Laurentine, which was recently completed at Belfast, is propelled both by reciprocating and turbine engines. Her departure marks the inauguration of the White Star-Donaldson Line's new Canadian service. She will be followed by the new Megantic in June. DEATH SENTENCES FOR SIX IN VIRGINIA Sextette of Negroes Will go to Electric Chair During the Coming Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Richmond, Va., April 29.—During the week beginning tomorrow six negroes are to be put to death in the electric chair at the State Penitentiary here. Five of them were sentenced to be executed tomorrow, but three were granted a respite of a few days because the superintendent of the prison was afraid that some mishap might occur if he attempted to put five men to death in the same chair in one day.

Five of the six condemned negroes are the men who instigated and carried out the crime in Lynchburg the night of February 12, when Mrs. Mary R. Skidmore and Walter G. Johnson, her farm manager, were robbed, murdered, and their bodies burned in the home they occupied. More than a dozen negroes were involved in the crime. Five have been convicted and the others are in jail awaiting trial.

John and William Brown, father and son, are to go to the chair tomorrow morning. Joe and Isham Taylor will follow next Wednesday, and two days later Lewis Jenkins will be put to death, as will also Howard Toler, a negro who assaulted a small negro girl in Pulaski.

APPOINT NEW HEADS FOR U. W. COURSES

Home Economics and Teachers' Instruction Departments Reorganized.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., April 29.—The regents of the University of Wisconsin today provided for the reorganization of the department of home economics and the department of teachers' instruction. The department of home economics, which has been transferred to the College of Agriculture, will be headed by Miss Abby L. Merrill, a graduate of the Kansas Agricultural college, and who has studied abroad, is well known both as a teacher of domestic science and as a lecturer at the Lake Placid conference on home economics.

The department of home economics, which has been transferred to the College of Agriculture, will be headed by Miss Elizabeth P. Alvord, a graduate of the University of Michigan, who took her master's degree at Columbia last June, and who for many years was a member of the faculty of the Oskola Normal school, was made assistant in American history. The appointment of Miss Alvord replaces Mrs. Corn Stannan Woodward, who has been acting this year as mistress of Chadbourne hall, and who will hereafter devote all her efforts to assisting university girls as advisers of women.

OVER-LEGISLATION IS COMPLAINT MADE

Is the Opinion of J. M. Clancy On Work of Legislature.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Staughton, Wis., April 29.—Over-legislation is declared by Attorney J. M. Clancy, a leading lawyer of southern Wisconsin, to be the greatest evil which befalls the state today, and which offers the issue upon which the democratic party may achieve victory. The enactment of a multitudinous number of ill-considered, half-baked, embryonic and vicious laws, a veritable riot of legislation, Mr. Clancy declares, has had the tendency to deprive people of their reasonable rights, increase public burdens and invite a political reaction. The blame for this alarming condition is laid by Mr. Clancy upon the so-called reformers, before consenting to express his views on these matters, Mr. Clancy declared that under no circumstances would he be prevailed upon to become a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor. This was in reply to a suggestion that his name had been frequently mentioned as a most available democratic gubernatorial possibility.

Among the ill-considered and fruitless pieces of legislation Mr. Clancy mentioned the primary election law which he said had been tested and found wanting, not in a few things amendable, but in every respect. "As a whole exterminator," he says, "a destroyer of political machines, a purveyor of public office, a preventive of corruption, it is worthless." He charges that the law confines the possibility of election to office among the very rich, and bars the poor man from the hope of political preferment. Another evil of the "reform" regime is pointed out by Mr. Clancy in legislation to control and regulate private business, to interfere with the rights of citizens, and to take into the state rights which from men should enjoy without interference. The result he says is multiplication of useless offices, holders and the absorption of the public revenue.

"Conditions must be changed," says Mr. Clancy. "The squandering of public money must end. The legal mill must run on shorter time. Useless laws must be repealed and demagogues supplanted by statesmen." "Future legislation should be largely limited to repealing laws," he says. "The opportunity of the democratic party."

HOW ABOUT LAWS AS TO THE PARTRIDGE?

While Legislature Is Passing Them Birds Destroy Buds of Fruit Trees.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., April 29.—While the legislature is passing laws for the protection of the partridge, because of its scarcity in Wisconsin, one farmer at Rice Lake is telling the game warden's department that unless he receives damages from the state that the bird has done, he will kill all in sight. Unlike the sparrow the partridge has never been considered a pest. Carl Wiesner of Rice Lake takes a different view of the matter and last week sent the following letter to the state fish and game warden:

"I reside in town of Stanford, sec. 15, Barron county, Wis. I herewith give you notice this 20th day of April, 1909, that I want a fair settlement for the damages done to my group of apple trees by partridges taking the buds during the winter and even now. And if no settlement is rendered within ten days from above said date, I will shoot or in other manner kill or destroy all partridges that I find on my ground. So place an order to prevent all trouble." CARL WIESNER, Rice Lake, Wis.

GAINING RENOWN FOR THE COOKER

CALORIC COMPANY IS BUILDING UP FINE BUSINESS.

SWAMPED WITH ORDERS

Cannot Keep Pace With the Demand For Their Product Which Goes to All Parts of the Country.

Janesville's best for many years has been that it is rapidly becoming known as a manufacturing center. True, its factories are not as large as those in adjacent cities but in number they are more and many of them are developing so rapidly that increased facilities will be necessary to handle the amount of business that is in prospect. Among the new industries that bids fair to pass all its rivals is the Caloric Company.

One visit to the busy office of the company at the old Choate-Hollister works will convince the most skeptical that in the Caloric Janesville bids fair to be known in the uttermost parts of the earth. Their daily mail brings orders and inquiries from all parts of the civilized globe and the product is being shipped as rapidly as possible with the order book still full to overflowing.

The aggressive campaign of advertising which the manager, Mr. H. H. Schaefer, has begun is showing its results.

CALORIC COOKER AT WORK

The Caloric cooker meets a long felt want and the retailers and consumers are anxious for the product of the Janesville factory. There are many Caloric cookers on the market but the Caloric seems to have met the popular demand.

Milwaukee became famous through the medium of a certain amber colored fluid and other cities have been known through medium of trade. Ft. Atkinson is heralded through east and west as the home of a certain brand of meat and the first thing a stranger thinks of in Chicago is the stockyards. It will not be long before Janesville is on the map as the home of the Caloric cooker.

In the mail at the Caloric office this morning were orders for cookers from three extremes of the United States—California, the land of flowers and sunshine, New York and Texas. It is not uncommon for orders and inquiries to come from the far off Orient, from England, from Honolulu, Alaska and the Philippines.

The Caloric cooker has come to stay. The old fashioned hay box was good enough in its way but the Caloric can do things that the hay box never dreamed of. Large wholesalers who handle many varieties of these Caloric stoves all accord the Janesville product first place and with the ever increasing uses it can be put to it bids fair to develop into a necessity instead of a luxury.

Mr. H. H. Schaefer has an order from one millionaire for a Caloric cooker to use on his sea-going $350,000 yacht who also has the latest conveniences as to be found. Others are in use in saloons where from lunch is served. Housekeepers in Janesville who have tested their efficiency are loud in their praise. Hunters are planning to use them on their expeditions. Automobiles have inquired for smaller varieties that they can slip into their machines for use on the road.

The future of the Caloric is assured and with its success hand in hand comes the advertising of Janesville. What helps one, helps all, and the city is fortunate in having such a progressive factory established in its midst. Already the demand has far exceeded the capacity for the production and it is only a matter of a short time before the factory will have to be enlarged.

Already day and night forces are rushing work to fill orders on hand and the order book is still full even though many are filled each day. When the company moved to Janesville less than a year ago they manufactured but three models. Now they have twenty varieties and work is progressing in experimenting on other styles to meet new demands.

The Caloric cooker is not a fad and the big retail stores throughout the country are demanding cookers as fast as they can be manufactured. John W. Wamman, Co. of New York and Philadelphia, Joseph H. Horne Co. of Pittsburgh, and Alexander H. Revell Co. of Chicago are some of the big retail establishments that handle the cookers and shipments are being made to them each week or so.

The strongest impression that a visitor receives during a walk through the factory is that every one is working at top speed and that the building does not seem to be large enough to accommodate the demands made upon it. Ladings for the stoves, which comes in lots of three carloads at a time, would for the outside, and non-combustible packing, fairly fill the building until working space is at a premium.

A large office force, seemingly too large for a factory of the size of the local shop, is kept busy attending to the orders, answering inquiries, and sending out literature. Large trucks, capable of carrying from sixteen to thirty-two stoves, according to the size, are standing about waiting for the next operation.

In short, the whole ensemble presents the appearance of a growing concern, ably managed, energetically pushed, and reflecting credit both upon its owner and the city where it is located.

the enterprise has worked wonders. With a good article to back their assertions the company is unable to meet the demand.

The fundamental principle of the cooker is that of doing the work without fire. The wonder features are that freezing, boiling and baking can all go along together within a few inches of each other at the same time. The economical housewife can start her soup and vegetables, her roast at the same time and go down town to shop, confident that upon returning all will be done to a turn. It is wonderful how many dishes can be prepared with the Caloric cooker, how many different kinds of meals can be cooked. Mr. H. H. Schaefer, the manager, is enthusiastic over the possibilities and the experiments made show that his expectations can all be realized. For the housewife, for the hunter, for the worker, for the millionaire with his auto or his yacht, for the camper, the summer cottager, the Caloric meets a requirement long desired.

Ranging in prices from $7.50 to $200 they meet every purse and in this they will prove successful. It is a saver of fuel, a saver of time and an economical way of enjoying life without the worry of a hot fire. The summer months, Janesville has other factories that are progressive, but none more so than the Caloric Company, which is the real infant industry of the city.

DAN SCHAEFER WAS A VERY PECULIAR MAN

Interesting Bits of Life History of Man Told by Friend Who Worked With Him Two Years.

A co-worker of the late Daniel Schaefer, who was found dead in his home on Walnut street, Sunday, tells an interesting story of the man as he learned it from the talker and together, John Madden, junior at the high school, for two years worked night with Schaefer at the Caloric factory. Schaefer was a janitor, Schaefer many times relates experiences which he claimed had happened to him which Madden scarcely believed as Schaefer spent a good deal of his time reading novels. Some of the statements made by him to Madden are plausible enough and are backed by evidence of their reliability.

Early History. Schaefer was born and lived in Germany until the age of seventeen, when he, with his mother, came to America. Shortly after his arrival here Schaefer desired to enlist in the army but consent was refused him by his mother. As he was then too young to enlist without her consent he ran away and enrolled in the troops which went to fight the Indians, giving the enlistment officer a name other than his real one in order that his mother might not find him. He was an artilleryman and fought in many battles. In one of them receiving a bullet wound in the back. This bullet was lodged in or very near to the spinal column and was never removed. At times it pained him and he was unable to do his work. He was the mother of three children: Rosetta, Mary Elizabeth, Mary Ella, Ida May, Anna, and Herbert A. Cutts, the last two of whom survive her. Two sisters, Mrs. Marie Van Hise, of Des Moines, Ia., and Mrs. Hannah Hart, of Cozad, Neb., are left to mourn her loss.

Charles Drummond. At two o'clock this afternoon from the home at 444 Cornelia street, the funeral of the late Charles Drummond was held. Rev. R. C. Denison, conducting the services, many friends of the deceased were present and the floral tributes were bounteous and very beautiful. H. L. McNamara, Frank Douglas, Fred Sheldon, Fred Clements, Fred Hutchinson, and J. D. O'Hara acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid to rest in Oak Hill.

Joseph Gibbons. Joseph Gibbons, formerly of this city, died yesterday morning at nine o'clock in St. Bernard's hospital, Chicago. Pneumonia was the cause of his demise. The deceased is survived by a brother and a sister, Andrew J. Gibbons, and Miss Mary Gibbons, both of this city. The funeral will be held in Chicago, Friday morning at nine o'clock.

Mrs. Ellen Jackett. Mrs. Ellen Jackett died this morning at eleven o'clock at the county poor farm. She was about sixty years of age and came here from Clinton Junction. Death resulted from paralysis, with which she has been troubled for the past four years. She is survived by two sons, Elmer and Charles, both residing in Clinton. The remains will be taken to Verona tomorrow noon for burial there.

Mrs. William Tripp. This morning at ten o'clock, from the home in the town of Rock, the last and tributes of respect were paid to the memory of Mrs. William Tripp. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Tripp of Janesville and were largely attended, a number from Janesville being present. The casket was covered with many beautiful floral emblems and designs. Fred Rohlfed, Frank Miller, John George and Marvin Hayner of the town of Rock, and Earl Swan and Sidney Richards of Janesville acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery in Janesville.

A REPUBLICAN, AND PROUD OF THE FACT

L. Mount, a Brother of P. J. Mount of This City, Has Personal Letter from Taft.

Mr. L. Mount, who lives at 1324 Hayes avenue, Rogers Park, Chicago, and a brother of P. J. Mount of this city, is paying his brother a short visit this week. Mr. Mount is as strong a republican as his brother is a democrat and enjoys his jokes as the democratic party in general.

Shortly after the inauguration of William Howard Taft as president of the United States, a citizen of Rogers Park addressed a congratulatory letter to him accompanied by an expression of good will. The new chief executive's breadth of vision is evidenced by a reply which was received a few days later and which is now a treasured possession of the recipient. The communication and the president's response follow:

LETTER TO PRESIDENT. Wm. H. Taft, President of the United States, Hon. Sir—

I congratulate the country on your accession as chief magistrate of this great and glorious republic, and hope it will go on "Conquering and Conquer"—from grace to glory—under your wise and unexcelled common sense administration; and that when your term of office expires, you may receive that same spontaneous applause as your illustrious predecessor did. Truly, I have the honor to remain, Yours respectfully, L. MOUNT.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY. Mr. L. Mount, 617 Diversey Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

My dear Sir—Your favor of the 15th instant has been received, and the President thanks you for writing. He appreciates your kindly expression. Very truly yours, FRANK W. CAMPBELL, Secretary to the President.

Mr. Mount thinks Janesville a delightful place to live after the hustle and bustle of the city. Recently arriving the wheat seamy on the board of trade when Patten was in his warm friend, was accused of having cornered all the wheat in the country. Mr. Mount stated emphatically that this was not true and to substantiate his statement offered to prove that there were lots of wheat Patten did not own or know of. He then showed two bushels he himself had which he offered on the open market at the current price. Mr. Mount has been coming to Janesville for the past thirty-eight years.

Morning Headache

"I suffered with terrible headaches. I would get up every morning with such a severe attack, and until I began using Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, never found anything that would give me the desired relief. I have used them now for several years, and would not be without them if they were a dollar a box."

TO HANG CITY WITH MANY GAY BUNTINGS

Odd Fellows' Decoration Committee is Already Planning for Big Convention—How Merchants May Co-Operate.

W. E. Clinton, chairman of the committee appointed to decorate the city for the session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows which will be in progress here during four days of the first week in June, and his associates have already commenced to formulate their plans. Besides the gay street banners and streamers which will be used to give the city a holiday appearance, the electric light arches raised on the occasion of the last Fourth of July celebration will be again pressed into service. The committee will also give all the merchants and other business men an opportunity to purchase pennons and small banners for their windows, at cost, and to that end have secured samples of over a dozen attractive designs which will be shown to all who may wish to share in the big order which will be sent to the supply house in the course of a few days. The outfit for any one individual or firm will be but nominal and those who fail to receive a personal call from the committee, through any inexperience, and who wish to be "up the procession" are urged to communicate either with Mr. Clinton or James A. Fathers. The style, which is to be as headquarter, will be decorated in elaborate and likewise the theatre where the address of welcome is to be delivered. There is every indication that over 1,800 delegates and visitors from every city and town of importance in the state will be on hand for the four days' convalescence and festivities.

KOHLHOFF SENT TO THE COUNTY JAIL

Got Drunk Again Last Night After Being Released under Suspended Sentence on Promise to Be Decent.

Frank Kohlhoff, who pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness on the day following his wife's suicide and who was released under a suspended sentence on his faithful plea for permission to touch no liquor while on probation, whimpered and whined for leniency when brought into court this morning to explain why he had gotten drunk again. But Judge McFadden gave a deaf ear to his entreaties. "Imprisonment for five days and a fine and costs of $11.10 with the alternative of 15 more days is the most severe sentence I am permitted by law to impose," said the Court. "I wish I could give you a longer term. You are not fit to take care of your children or anybody else." It is probable that application will be made with County Judge Sale sometime today to have the late Mrs. Kohlhoff's brother, August Schultz, who resides at 602 Eastern avenue, appointed guardian of the children, Fred and Mary. The relatives, however, have hesitated about making the move for fear that Kohlhoff, once deprived of them, might seek to do some injury to his children.

Just the Right

WALL DECORATION

A wall paper beautiful in itself may not be suitable for your purpose. If you have wall spaces to decorate, for instance, the design and color may stand out vividly as decoration. But, on the other hand, if your walls are hung with pictures and your rooms are well furnished an elaborate design in vivid color would destroy the restful balance so much to be desired in the average home.

This is but one of the many problems which arise in selecting wall paper for different kinds of rooms—problems which are most easily solved in a store like this one, stocked, as it is, with the most artistic papers and fabrics of the season and showing the greatest assortment. We are thoroughly trained in the art of wall decoration and will be glad to suggest. Prices no higher than elsewhere.

NO MORE FIREWORKS

That the nation is entering upon an era of sanity is evident to every thoughtful observer, and while President Taft was but recently installed as chief executive, the atmosphere of the White House has changed, and the day of fireworks, and of the trial in the court of public opinion is succeeded by conservative and considerate treatment of "malcontents" of every class. "The undesirable citizen" will have a chance for his life, and will be considered innocent until found guilty.

In sharp contrast to the old regime, is the treatment just now being accorded to Morris & Co., the Chicago packers. This firm have been in the habit of keeping accounts of loss and damage on interstate shipments, in a way which made it possible for the company to be accused of sharing in rebates.

When the attention of Attorney General Wickham was called to the matter, he wrote to Morris & Co. requesting them to change their system of accounting so as to avoid criticism and the request was cheerfully complied with. This is a different from the methods employed during the last administration as to exact comment, and a financial journal thus endorses the policy:

"Under the former order of things the discovery, that a packing house was guilty even of a technical violation of the anti-rebate law would probably have been followed by indictments and prosecutions. The fact that there was no proof of moral culpability on the part of the offender would have counted for little. Nor would the prompt assurance by Morris & Co. of their full compliance with the attorney general's instructions have saved them. Such an opportunity for playing to the gallery would hardly have been ignored.

"President Taft's policy, as exemplified by Attorney General Wickham, is different. There have been no fireworks and no declamatory outbursts of wrath. No inopportune prosecution, no stage thunder, no million-dollar fine—nothing but a plain matter of fact, business process promptly notified in a just and sensible way. We are getting back to sobriety, and we can deal with the law-breaker really more effectively in that condition."

MERE CHANGE OF MYSTERIES

With the deposition of Sultan Abdul Hamid and the elevation to the throne of his younger brother, Reshad Effendi, Turkey exchanges one man of mystery for another, merely hoping for the best. Abdul, the bloody, treacherous despot, goes out, and Reshad, weak but reputed of progressive inclinations, comes in backed by the new regime of the young Turks. Reshad, according to the most authoritative reports, is a nonentity, but in that fact the young Turk repose most hope. The constitutionalists intend that the new sultan shall rule only in name, and a nonentity is best suited to their program.

Reshad, according to the cable dispatches, is only too glad to accept the succession, but it is only a shadow of the great power wielded by his brother, for in so doing he exchanges a prison for a throne. From a virtual prisoner in a palace guarded by the sultan's soldiers, watched by the sultan's spies, and restricted to an existence shaped by the sultan's orders, Reshad becomes at one step the ruler of the Turkish empire, the head of the Mussulmans, and the arbiter of the destiny of the deposed brother, who has been his jailer for a generation. If little is known of the real Abdul Hamid, the dark mystery of Europe, still less is known of his successor. Though he has been the popular idol of the progressive Turks for a decade, only the most meager information concerning Reshad's personality, attainments, and political principles has percolated from his palace prison to the outside world. Abdul Hamid took elaborate care to keep Reshad an unknown quantity.

The new sultan is 64 years old. For 30 years his brother has kept him as a prisoner in a palace, surrounded by his wives and slaves, but deprived of all freedom. He was the natural heir to the throne and hailed as the liberator of a down-trodden people at the time of the uprising, 10 years ago. This so excited the enmity of his brother, Abdul, that his life was threatened and fears were felt for his safety.

But though Reshad's life was spared the sultan appears to have succeeded in keeping his brother a weakling physically and mentally. The royal prisoner was encouraged to indulge in excesses that sapped his strength and in a few years ago it was reported that he was suffering from chronic ailments. Other reports describe him as a sensualist. In his youth he was given absolutely no education and his life was given up to reckless indulgence.

Abdul was tyrannical and despotic. He trusted no one, hired spies to watch spies, taxed the people beyond endurance and amassed a fortune of several hundred million dollars. The brother who succeeds him is a weakling and will be only a figurehead, but this is what the people want as they propose to try their hand at government. The future of Turkey is problematic, but conditions can be no worse than in the past.

ICE-JAMS AT NIAGARA

Two severe ice-jams at Niagara Falls, one on February 14 and the other on April 10, interfered seriously with the power development by the interests seeking to appropriate this great scenic wonder to private uses.

In the April jam the Ontario Power company's plan was so hampered that various shifts had to be adopted to fulfill contracts. It became necessary to resort to steam power. It will be weeks, too, before repairs can be made to the line of the Gorge railway. Thus, emphasis is being given to the singular and notable fact that Niagara Falls, with their enormous dynamic force, are yielding no great profits to those interests which, indifferent to the rights of the American people in this great natural wonder, have insisted on confiscating Niagara's power. From the practical viewpoint, it seems certain that only the destruction of the falls in their natural grandeur will enable the power development interests to control this force with profit.

Nature rebels at the encroachments which threaten to destroy the beautiful falls, and the ice gorge, at the mouth of the river, which caused the water to set back and damage the power plants, may serve a good purpose. The greed of America is rivaled by the greed of Canada, and on both sides of the river, above the falls, a great volume of water is diverted from the channel, and after passing through the power plants empties into the river below the cataract. This has already diminished the flow of water over the falls, and in time there will be nothing left but a dry river-bed. An ice gorge is needed every year to save Niagara Falls, as no other power seems able to stem the tide of greed which seeks to destroy.

It has just begun to dawn upon congress that the silent man at the White House is liable to create a commotion if the tariff bill, presented for his approval, is not in keeping with party pledges. Unlike his predecessors, President Taft has offered neither criticism nor advice and so both houses of congress have excelled their own sweet will in revising the tariff upwards. But the end is not yet, and the discovery will be made before many months that the people have a representative at the capital, on whom they can rely.

The boys of Boston and Philadelphia are experimenting with wireless telegraphy, and so disturb the atmosphere that the government found it impossible, the other day, to get in communication with a battleship 1,000 miles away. The right of way is a question yet to be settled. The boys claim that their fathers own the air for a mile above the roof where their wireless stations are located, and the title is not disputed.

The city of Muncie, Indiana, with 32 saloons and a population of 25,000 voted "dry" by a small majority at the election last Tuesday. This was independent of the county option measure which passed, and indicates that a change of sentiment is taking place on the saloon question, in the smaller cities. Wherever this sentiment is strong enough to enforce the law it is a good thing for public morality.

The primary law cost the candidates for office a round half million dollars last fall, and the state is spending a lot more on a senseless investigation. Yet some people are foolish enough to believe that the law is a good thing. Theoretically it may be alright; so is freedom, free silver, and socialism, but it is as impractical as either of the three, and will continue to be a nuisance to the state until repealed.

President Taft will exhaust every effort to break up the solid south, and in this work he should be encouraged by all loyal citizens. "One Common Country" is the motto, and the sentiment should inspire every patriotic heart. The south is slowly recovering from the effects of war and needs the support and sympathy of the prosperous north.

Heart to Heart Talks.

BE UNAFRAID.
 Fear is man's deadliest foe. And yet in all the universe of God there is nothing to be afraid of. If only every day is fronted with high courage.

Some of us are in bondage to fears all our lives because we forget that divine love rules in every place and watches even the sparrow's fall. Fear is born of ignorance.

He who knows the ordered ways of nature knows that every tiny leaf that is swirled by the hapless winds finds at last its safe retreat and destiny in the vast reconstruction of things. Every drop of water does what it is bid to do.

The pollen of the fields gladly yields itself to the swift breath of nature and its wafted to distant shores to fructify a fertile, waiting soil.

Everything in the world, man excepted, graciously yields itself to change.

Why should man be stubborn? Why should he hesitate to adjust himself to changed conditions, shuddering with fear lest he lose himself in transformation?

To do so is a great mistake. Because all things are on the move. Man must move with them. He cannot stop if he would. Willingly or unwillingly, like the drop of water, he must yield himself to the inevitable.

Why not, then, willingly submit? If man is to be happy he must be in accord with his environment.

Realizing that he is to go on through life's lofty chambers, through the portals of death, through vast eternity, he should adjust his mind and heart to the great changes.

Why not meet that which must needs come fearlessly and gladly? Therefore let us cut the Gordian knot of every single thread of fear that is in us.

"God's in his heaven, and all's well." Stay not shivering in the edge of vain shadows that will flee away when you have disenthralled yourself from foolish fears.

Hold up your chin and be unafraid. Naught that is bad can really harm your father's child, "mother dear, nor life, nor angels, nor prelaties, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come."

WINDOW CLEANING SAFE

New Scaffold Hooks on Bill and Cannot Tumble Out.

Window-cleaning was once a hazardous occupation, especially for those who cleaned windows at the top of skyscrapers, but as the increased height of buildings made the risk greater, better safeguards were invented for the cleaners and the best of these thus far is that designed by an Illinois man. This window scaffold consists of a ladder-like support with a sliding seat swung where the window should be. A pulley passes around the back and affords a support for the workman if he wants to lean back and keep him from falling out backward. Running under the seat are two chains with hooks on the ends. These hooks fasten on the inside sill of the window and the foot of the main support rests and the stone sill outside, making the whole structure one of great strength and stability and reducing the risk of cleaning from the outside to a minimum.

Herbert Knox Smith may succeed Robert Watchorn as commissioner of Immigration.

Washington.—As a result of investigation at the Ellis Island Immigration station at New York, Robert Watchorn, the commissioner of Immigration, may retire in June. Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor, is considering Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations and a member of President Roosevelt's tenets cabinet, as his successor.

Charges were preferred against Mr. Watchorn early in the year by Henry Baile, who formerly held a concession at Ellis Island. They were investigated by the department of commerce and labor, Mr. Smith being in charge of the investigation. President Roosevelt was at first disinclined to consider the charges seriously, and sent Mr. Watchorn's nomination to succeed to the senate. Thereupon additional charges were made, and Mr. Watchorn's name was withdrawn. Four days before the expiration of his term Mr. Roosevelt sent the name back to the senate.

The charges were not made public here at the time and the department of commerce and labor will not disclose them now. When the subject was finally brought to an issue it is said that Mr. Watchorn offered to retire, and in this connection the information is forthcoming that he will step out about June, when the work of the quarter is ended. One criticism of Watchorn's administration is that he did not remain "on the job" as closely as he should. A close and enthusiastic student of immigration problems, he has delivered many lectures on the subject, and this practice did not meet with the approval of the new secretary of commerce and labor.

Secretary Nagel is anxious to improve the administration of Ellis Island, which in his opinion should be in charge of a man of legal training. For this reason he has considered Mr. Smith.

The latter entered the bureau of corporations as assistant commissioner, or when it was first created. President Roosevelt appointed him to succeed James B. Garfield several years ago. As commissioner he investigated and rendered several extensive reports on the organization and activities of the Standard Oil company. These reports formed in part the basis of the government suits for dissolution of the Standard Oil company.

The news that Mr. Smith is being considered for the Ellis Island bill is accounted for by the fact that he is a retired naval officer, and a member of the board of directors of the Standard Oil company, who will succeed him in that post has not yet been decided.

New York.—I have not resigned my post and know nothing of the appointment of a man to succeed me as commissioner of Immigration at New York.

These were the words of Robert Watchorn, who has been stationed at the main immigration gateway of the new world for four years, when he told a reporter last night that he knew nothing of the reported action of President Taft in replacing him with Herbert Knox Smith, the present commissioner of the bureau of corporations.

Commissioner Watchorn has been involved in a peculiar series of circumstances in his office since the first part of the year and his case has attracted considerable attention. His regular term of service in office expired on February 10, according to a statement made by him last night, but he has remained in office since, attending to the many duties of the place since that time.

President Roosevelt sent the nomination of Mr. Watchorn to the senate for ratification more than a month before the commissioner's term was to expire. It was generally understood in Washington and in this city that Mr. Watchorn would succeed in the office.

On January 5, however, without giving any reason further than that charges had been made against Commissioner Watchorn, President Roosevelt withdrew the nomination from the senate. There was much speculation as to the nature of the charges filed with the president, but it was generally reported that they were of a technical nature, the commissioner having made many enemies in office because of the rigid manner in which he enforced the laws.

Four days before President Roosevelt's term of office expired he again sent to the senate the nomination of Mr. Watchorn. While the nature of the charges made against Mr. Watchorn were never made public, the act of President Roosevelt was taken by friends of Mr. Watchorn to indicate that he charges had been disproved.

The senate postponed action on the nomination until after the inauguration of President Taft, and the matter has not since been given consideration.

Daughters of the Revolution

Busily spinning dainty fabrics for their trousseaus, the Daughters of the Revolution, in fancy, spun fairy fabrics of another kind—beautiful dreams of a table set for two, snowy linen, rare old china, and the quaint, old-fashioned silver handed down from Colonial times. Dearly they prized the time-honored pieces, and more than one maiden could single out a spoon or a fork used by the great LaFayette himself when entertained in America.

The LaFayette

Even more would such pieces be prized by daughters of today, and scarcely less do they appreciate The LaFayette, a pattern which faithfully revives the old historic silver—plain and quaint of outline—a pattern which never fails to captivate the maiden whose brain is busily spinning the same old dream of love and home.

In Sterling only. Distinguished by the special LaFayette trade-mark.

A typical scene on the Uganda railway and the seat over the cow catcher, such as was used by Ex-President Roosevelt during his journey inland.

Reports from South Africa to the effect that ex-President Roosevelt was journeying inland on a cow catcher were rather astounding to most American readers not familiar with the method of travel in South Africa. As a matter of fact this is the observation car of the Uganda railway. While it would be entirely impractical on the fast trains of America, it affords the best and most highly prized seat on the African railway, for from this point one can observe the country as far as the eye can reach on either side, and an interesting spectacle it is.

The Uganda railway was constructed by the British government at enormous cost for the purpose of opening up the territory inland. It was not expected that this would be on a paying basis for many years, but such has been the growth of South Africa that the Uganda railway is at present on a paying basis and even has declared small profits. From the railway one is able to see an entire menagerie of animals during the trip inland from the Uganda railway. Practically every animal

From left to right, James Granville, retired machinist; Charles H. Snydam, wholesale grocer; Robert H. Syming, civil and mining engineer; Michael Maguire, retired hay and grain merchant; Peter Antles, Sr., retired mining man; Joseph Dixon, clerk; Charles K. Blonder, real estate dealer; Theodore Blinner, plasterer and decorator; James R. Cashman, clerk; George G. Gillespie, building contractor; Otto H. Hildebrecht, designer and decorator; Otto H. Mackroth, retired grocer.

San Francisco.—With the selection of the jury in the Patrick Calhoun trial both sides are now ready to clash in one of the most remarkable cases on the coast. Patrick Calhoun, who is president of the United Railroads at San Francisco, is charged with bribing one of the supervisors to vote for an ordinance granting an overhead trolley franchise to his company. The selection of the jury has taken up over a month and the trial threatens to extend itself over a long period.

The case is the outcome of Francis J. Heney's strenuous attacks and the California case is one of the most important of all those so far tried.

bridge the farmer came up and caught me and said he would put me in jail for stealing his horse. He had hold of me, but I jerked away and ran down the railroad tracks away from the men who had stolen me. I didn't know where I was but I followed the railroad tracks until I saw the big furnace and then I knew I was in front. One of the men had given me 50 cents and I bought some things to eat with the money and begged some more from some women. One of the men that stole me lives in Cincinnati. I saw him once on Fountain square.

The boy had five cents in his pocket when he arrived in front. It is evident that he meant Kenova, W. Va., as the place where "the boys" live down from a large building. Kenova is on the railroad between Cincinnati and front.

The question still remains, was the boy kidnapped or is he possessed of the most vivid imagination any 12-year old boy ever had?

Was this boy kidnapped or is he the cleverest faker in Cincinnati?

Leo Mulhern as he appeared on the streets of Cincinnati, selling papers, and a letter received by his parents apparently from kidnappers.

Cincinnati.—Police are in a quandary and so is pretty every one of the hundreds of people who became interested in the disappearance of Leo Mulhern. He disappeared from home last Wednesday after the family had received many threatening notes apparently from kidnappers who were after money. All night Mrs. Mulhern sat up waiting but the boy did not come home. Thursday she received the note, copied above, which seemed to be authentic. The newsboy's association started on a hunt for the missing lad. The police and detectives did everything within their power. Many sympathizers worked hard to locate him. At night the loving mother sat up waiting for her boy for she of all those most interested did not take any stock in the kidnapping theory. She expected him to turn up at any moment. It must be said that Leo has a vivid imagination which has caused him no little trouble before. He has frequently told of tales wherein he was attacked by strangers and of many narrow escapes.

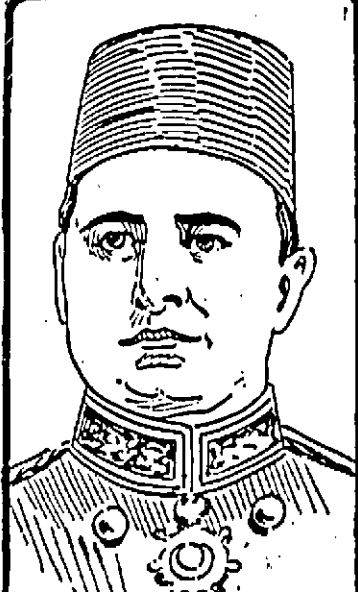

"This last scare was of so serious a nature, however, and so well worked out it was a fake that was generally supposed that he had been kidnapped. Saturday the boy turned up at his grandfather's a few miles distant, at Fronton, O.

"I was kidnapped and had an awful

ADMIRAL RANSFORD D. BUCHANAN, WHO DEFENDED THE LIFE OF ABDUL HAMID II.

Constantinople.—The sultan is fleeing from Constantinople depends upon an American to save his life. His hopes in his extremity are pinned upon Admiral Ransford D. Buchanan, who now commands the imperial navy, has charge of naval construction and of the imperial yacht, and is the naval adviser and aide-de-camp of Abdul Hamid II.

Twice, it is said, he has saved the life of the sultan, and he is prepared to fight for it again if necessary.

More than once has Buchanan Pasha himself, as he is known in Turkey, been the object of attack by would-be assassins.

Buchanan Pasha has entire charge of the building of the Turkish navy. Every dollar of the $20,000,000 set aside for this purpose which has thus far been expended has been paid out under his direction.

Upon the breast of his gold-embroidered uniform gleams the star of the Order of Osmanieh conferred upon him by the sultan. The same imperial hands have conferred a distinguished service medal, which Buchanan Pasha wears upon his left breast. Massive gold epaulettes adorn his shoulders. A gold braided foz and a jewel-studded sword completes the dress of the man upon whose naval wisdom and astuteness the sultan now leans. At court the American ranks with the nobles and he is more often consulted.

Buchanan Pasha has been in Nova Scotia 25 years ago. His father was lost at sea and when his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Buchanan of Worcester, Mass., gave him the choice of farm life or going to sea at 11 he chose the sea as cabin boy in a merchant ship.

He was twice shipwrecked. Afterward he met John D. Rockefeller on a lake passenger steamer and the latter made him captain of a Standard Oil whaleback, where he was known as the "Kid Captain."

In 1892 he accepted a position with the Cramps of Philadelphia, and when the Turkish warship "Medjah" was completed in 1893 he was commissioned to sail her to the Bosphorus. There he met the sultan, who was so impressed with his ability that he offered him the vice admiralty of the empire.

Buchanan Pasha afterward went to San Francisco and married Miss Rose Thayer, who is now with him in the Ottoman capital. His salary is princely.

JOHNNY COMPOSES.

"My dear schoolteacher has asked me to write a composition on the Panama Canal, and so I think schoolteachers ought to be encouraged I have done so."

The Panama Canal is somewhere around Panama. It is intended to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. If it should fail to do so many people would say they thought so from the first.

"The Canal has thus far cost over several hundred dollars, and our grocery says it will cost more than several hundred more before any ducks swim in it. Always believe in your grocery if you want to be happy."

The Chagres River is down there somewhere, and its principal business is to threaten to give the Canal fits when it is completed. Some say it will do so, and some say it won't. It is just the same as when a street car hits a man. Some say he will recover, some say he will die, and some say they don't care a cent which way it goes.

To check the Chagres River in its mad career they are building a great dam. It is higher than a tree and wider than an old pasture. They call it the Gatun Dam. Mr. Gatun's saloon is near by and he makes all callers at home.

"Since the Gatun was begun it has settled twice, and is expected to settle three or four more times."

"This is what makes my father ripping mad. He doesn't like to settle even once, as the butcher can tell you, and when it comes to settling three or four times he kicks in doors and breaks furniture."

"I have no more to say. The Panama Canal is a young and tender thing and cannot bear it. Some day my teacher may ask me to compose something on Christopher Columbus, who was old and tough, and then I will take pleasure in giving him fits."

EARLY TRIALS OF
RAILROAD MAKERSJ. T. WRIGHT TELLS OF THEIR AD-VENT INTO JANESVILLE.

ST. PAUL WAS HERE FIRST

What it Meant to Janesville to Have Direct Communication With Outside World.In today's reminiscences J. T. W.
Wright tells of the advent of the railroads into Janesville. It is an interesting bit of history and one which will be read by many of the old timers with delight as it recalls days long ago—almost forgotten. Mr.
Wright writes:Janesville has two railroads which reached us as follows: Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul January 1, 1853; Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac reached the city Sept. 15, 1853, with the first passenger train. Both roads had a terrible struggle; the difficulty was, neither had money, and really they played a confidence game all through. The former secured one good man, a doctor of a Congregational at church near Clinton, who went from town to town and persuaded the farmers to mortgage their farms during the day time and in the evening hold protracted meetings. His arguments were convincing and doubtless were the means of doing good in one way, as well as evil in another, for setting example by mortgaging his own farm gave confidence to other farmers to do likewise, being assured by the road they would pay the same, but in every case the farmer had to do so himself or lose his farm. I am told this extended from Milwaukee to the Mississippi River. The Chicago & Northwestern came up out of two roads—Rock River Valley and Chicago, Fond du Lac & St. Paul.I remember well their effort to announce a debt of $300 on our city, which was the case in the cities of Green Bay, Fond du Lac and Watertown, where they were successful. The attempt was conducted by personal visitation by the directors, who came from Chicago accompanied by a brass band. Never did I meet a more jolly band. They proceeded to the Court house, where after greetings and instructions, the gentlemen commenced talking in a vein of ecstasy over what had been accomplished. Finally, when the time came for action and the question of recommending the city to give the desired bonds, the tone of the meeting changed. No more laughter or cheering, and really no one wished to say anything. Finally J. A. Sleeper, Esq., (who has been announcing asking voters if they thought it fair to tax widows and orphans, and in a very pleasant way, and in the pleasure of the city to have the road come to Janesville, but suggesting taking stock by citizens in which event every man could subscribe as he chose, not obliging every taxpayer to pay for the road by taxation.) Finally, a motion prevailed to ask for subscriptions for stock not at all desired, but strenuously opposed by our visitors. If I remember correctly, Mr. William M. Tallman offered to take five thousand dollars, in all, only about ten thousand was offered. The Railroad Officers tried to recover the enthusiasm. Mr. Sleeper's suggestion served as a wet blanket and soon the meeting broke up in the direct confession of no more music from the brass band; the gentlemen left town with the impression we were an ungrateful set of fellows. After having served us with such exquisite music, we were disinclined to dance—had it not been for Mr. Joseph A. Sleeper, there would undoubtedly have been bonds issued for $300 dollars. The writer has always felt the city owed a debt of gratitude to Mr. Sleeper and should have been expressed in some manner.
Mr. Sleeper moved to Chicago, where he has since died.The two roads have always been beggars. As a city we paid for right of way to Afton and Evansville, probably we have been molested about one hundred thousand dollars. The old saying, "Corporations have no souls" is true in their case. They always were and now are, a rapacious set. Our legislature helped the traveling public by placing fares at two cents per mile, in retaliation, we are charged about double freight rates.The roads are now in the hands of the Vanderbilt and other money kings who are spending vast sums in improvements of every sort, but will get it all back in time.After the bridges crossing Rock river, were built, and the building of the tracks to Oshkosh, the C. & N. W. had an opening excursion to which invitations were issued to Janesville and other cities on the line. Col. Ellis worth's Zonaves were engaged as entertainers at Fond du Lac, where we spent the night; they went through their drill, after which those who wished, could dance all night. Hotels and residences were at our service.
Mr. Frank Mosely, E. S. Barrows and writer went to North Fond du Lac, where we could be quiet and have a comfortable night. Next day the excursionists went to Oshkosh, remaining to dinner, after which we left for return trip. En route to say good-by to Fond du Lac and have a few speeches in front of the Palmer House, there happened a dry goods box placed for speakers, someone cried out, "Mitchell," up jumped our "Bill," but the boys gathered him in, picking up Chilson Holston, Sage of Turtleville, who, in a very appropriate way, "returned thanks to the road for the pleasure
thanks to the road for the pleasure afforded us, not only in the well, but for their hospitality as well, the citizens of Fond du Lac who opened their houses and chambers for needed rest and entertainment. He was one of the fortunate ones who was delegated to the soft cushion in a chair, but declared, "He could never sleep, unless there was a person in the pulpit," there were more speeches and responses. The whistle blew and we ran for the train, reaching Janesville late in the evening. The road gave a return excursion for the cities visited, but unfortunately it fell through a train at Johnsons Creek, killing a number of the excursionists, ending the trip for the time.About the largest excursion in the days, was one to Chicago in the summer of sixty-one or two. The train was engaged, fifteen cars for thirty dollars per car; it being well advertised for two weeks—fare one dollar for round trip. The morning wasbright and fair, and cars loaded much in excess of seating capacity and a happier crowd never started on an excursion. Arriving about noon, we scattered around to the different hotels—it was in the days of the old City Hotel on Lake street, which was well patronized. Next day the Tribune speaking of it, said, "They broke up the usual monotony." We reached home in good season, having the satisfaction that everyone had a good time and no accident or injury of any kind.
This ended all excursions, although apparitions were numerous. The pasengers of the train was slim after this, only now and then a few passengers, and those possibly D. H., as there was a good deal of that in vogue.When Mr. Wm. D. Strong (in early sixties) was agent for the C. M.
& St. P., we had a ride to Madison, one thousand strong. After arriving, we repaired to the capital, where we were received with much enthusiasm from several gentlemen, among them our Gov. Randall, and other gentlemen, after which the late Mrs. Deale read her poem as follows:We come, dear friends, to meet you,
With happy hearts we come;
With cheerful songs we greet you Beneath our Capitol Dome.Where Rock river gently murmurs
To laughing prairie flowers,
Are happy homes and fireplaces
In Janesville's shady bowers.But the river told the story, As swift he glided by,
Of pleasant lakes and hillside
Where sleeping waters lie.So we've come to wake the echoes From every rock and glen,
With love and joy to greet you,
When turn we home again.With green trees waving o'er us,
And turf beneath our feet,
We'll join the swelling chorus
And joyful songs repeat.And long shall we remember This happy festive day,
May blossoms rest on Madison, Forever more, we pray." J. T. W.

FOR WOMEN AND THE HOME

Slamming the door of the oven makes cake fail.All canned fruit should be kept in a cool, dark place.Vinegar pickles will not keep in a jar in which any greasy substance has been kept.Dishes in a little lump sugar among the turnips while cooking; it improves them wonderfully.Lemon juice, applied with a camel's hair brush, night and morning, will remove freckles of not too long standing.When a lemon is halved or quartered and left unused, a tumbler over it, protecting it from the air, will keep it from drying or moulding for several days.When cooking mush for fried mush do not cook as long as for eating, but pour into a deep pan after stirring ten minutes. When cold dip the slices in beaten egg and they will fry crisp.A loaf of stale bread may be made to taste like newly baked if it is dipped in cold water for a few moments, and then put into a pan and baked for three quarters of an hour in a moderate oven.An excellent lotion to whiten the skin is made of one-fourth ounce of white rose leaves steeped in one fourth pint each of fresh lemon juice and brandy for three hours. Press, strain and decant. Do not apply often than once a day.For ordinary use the best for furniture is a mixture of equal quantities of turpentine and paraffine oil.
This should be rubbed on with a woolen cloth, the surface being polished with a soft woolen cloth and finally with a piece of fine linen.An excellent cream for massage and for softening the skin on face and hands is made according to the following recipe: Take pure white wax one-eighth of an ounce, spermaceti one ounce and one-quarter, sweet almond oil one ounce and one-quarter, and rose water three-fourths of an ounce.To make furniture look like new, dissolve one-fourth of a cake of soap in boiling water, add it to a pail of warm water. In which put two table-spoonsful of kerosene. Stir thoroughly and then wash the furniture with a soft cloth moistened in the compound. Wipe dry with a clean, soft cloth, rubbing gently.Nickel and steel articles are best polished by using emery powder mixed with a tablespoonful of sweet oil and a tablespoonful of turpentine.
Use enough of the powder to make a thin paste and apply with a flannel cloth. Finish with a piece of flannel cloth dipped in a little of the dry powder, which should be very fine.Even a severe bilious attack may be overcome by taking the juice of one or two lemons in a goblet of water before retiring, and in the morning before rising. When taken on an empty stomach the lemon has an opportunity to work on the system. The use of the remedy should be continued at least for several weeks.The best thing to do if you happen to overheat potatoes is to drain off the water as much as possible. Put them, still in the saucepan, but without the lid, over the fire and stir with a wooden spoon till the water has evaporated and the potatoes become floury. Mash them until no lumps are left. Add salt, pepper, a lump of butter or dripping and a little milk.
Mix and beat well and serve as mashed potatoes.Underwent an Operation: Mrs. William Haight was taken yesterday to

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

TO SEE how completely she can ignore the laws of health and still live, I sometimes think is the dearest and the young girl of the present day. And every time she does some law and does not immediately suffer she thinks she has escaped scot free.But she hasn't.
The penalty of a law of health defied may not be exacted immediately, but perhaps not for years, but it must inevitably be some time. One girl I know was punished by the loss of her good looks for long continued abuse of her stomach."I can eat anything," she used to boast. "Why hurry and I often go out into the kitchen, make a pan of fudge and eat it all up in an hour." For a year she was able to do this, but the reaction finally came in a fit of ill-health which took away her beautiful complexion, the pride of her life.I was very much impressed with the logic of what her family doctor told a delicate young girl who wanted to take up the fad of wearing summer underclothes in winter."You may wear insufficient underclothing," he said,
"and not catch cold, but to keep your body warm under those conditions you simply have to use up energy that is needed for other things. Unless you have vitality to be lost of it in some way. It stands to reason."apare, you must feel the heat in all kinds of weather is another of those fads which are inclined to run into the ground.
"We don't catch cold," they say nonchalantly when you express your wonder at seeing a group of college girls start bareheaded for a mid-winter cross-country tramp.A doctor in attendance at a large girls' college told me that the amount of deafness among the girls had increased 20 per cent since the hatless fad came in.Just as every downhill has somewhere in the road its compensating climb, so somewhere, somehow every defiance of the laws of health will have its compensating penalty.It may be loss of beauty, it may be a ruined digestion, it may be simply a loss of efficiency in some unexpected direction—it may be very long deferred—but one thing is certain, somehow, somewhere, sometime it will come.COOPER WILL CHOOSE CENSUS SUPERVISORTaking of Census Will Be in Charge of Man Chosen by Congressman at Salary of $1500.

Although the taking of the census in this district and state will not be started until April 15, 1910, yet the arrangements of the districts of the state is being made by the census department of the United States, following us nearly as possible, the lines of the congressional districts.
Every one of these districts there is to be a census supervisor, who will have charge of all the enumerators in the district. The salary for the position is $1,500 with an added $1 for every thousand names which the enumerators in the district report.
In this state there will be eleven districts, one of which will include the territory in the First Congressional District.The enumerators will receive varying pay, there being a standard established for this by the bureau of the department. In country districts they will receive from 15 cents to 25 cents for each family counted, according to the difficulty experienced in traveling around. In the more populous districts they will receive from $3 to $6 per day and in the cities 2 to 4 cents per capita counted.According to the census law the work of taking the thirteen census will begin April 15, 1910. Outside of cities of 5,000 inhabitants or more the enumerating will last for one month. In cities where the population shifts with more rapidly the work must be completed within two weeks. The supervisors will then carry the schedules to Washington, where they will be tallied up and put in proper form during the successive months.The selection of the man for the place is given to the Congressman from each district. In this district by Congressman Cooper. An appointment has not yet been made nor have any names been suggested but there will be a number of aspirants for the place.NEW RULE IN REGARD TO RURAL CARRIERSPostoffice Department Sends Out Order Concerning Delivery of Mail in Country.Rock county patrons of the rural free delivery system will no doubt be interested in the recent ruling of the postoffice in regard to the duties of mail-carriers in the collection of mails from the rural boxes. The new rule will also probably be favored by the carriers as it will lighten their labor during the wet spring weather when the ground is soft and the roads almost impassable.Rural mail carriers thrusting their arms through spoke wheels, climbing steep hills and crossing dangerous ravines in order to collect mails from boxes along their route, often jeopardizing their lives, is discontinued in an order issued by the postoffice department yesterday. It has been decreed that rural letter boxes perched high upon hills, others almost on the ground, and still others in similar places, may be removed and located in more convenient places. This will be done to expedite mail collection and delivery of rural mail and at the same time to enable carriers to cover their routes with greater celerity.
Postmasters have been directed to take a census of all inaccessible rural letter boxes with a view to instituting the proposed change.ROSE BUSHES

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, promoted its incurable nature.
Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Dr. J. C. Cheney's Catarrh medicine is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for cir-

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, April 28, 1869.—Sudden Death.—Mrs. Elizabeth Duval, wife of Dr. William Duval, died this morning about two o'clock at the Jordan House. Mrs. Duval retired last night, after ten o'clock, in usual health. The doctor states that he was awakened about two o'clock by his wife, who was tossing her head and groaning. She said, "One of those dizzy spells is coming on me." He called to his sons, who were in the adjoining room, and they called Mrs. Wintermute, the landlady, who hastened to the room to find her dead. She formerly resided at Grant Prairie, Minnesota, and was married to Dr. Duval about six months since, at Oatman, Wis. They had been living in the city but a short time and were expecting to leave for Deloit in a few days. An inquest is being held this afternoon by Police Justice Hudson.

The Driving Park.—We are sorry to know that the property of the Driving Park association is to be sold at auction on Wednesday next. If this is done, the grounds will be abandoned as a race course and Janesville will be without a place for holding fairs, either by the county or state. It has already cost a large sum of money to fix the track, fence the grounds, and erect the necessary stands and buildings and it seems a pity that the whole thing should now be abandoned.

Mendelssohn Quintette Club.—The above club will give one of their vocal and instrumental concerts in this city Saturday, May 15, and judging from the Chicago papers of today we can safely say that it will be one of the finest musical entertainments ever given in this city.

From Londonderry.—Londonderry, Ireland, April 29.—(Hats here yesterday between the Catholics and the Orangemen; during the collision between the two factions, the police charged upon both, firearms were used, several rioters being wounded and two killed. The riot assumed at one time fearful proportions but for the police and the appearance of the military from the garrison finally succeeded in restoring quiet. The city is now quiet. The military will remain on duty for a day or two.
